Overseas Press Club Bulletin

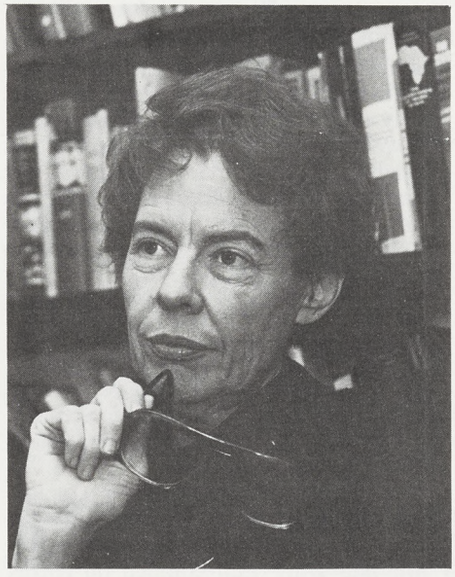

VOL. 36, NO. 7
APRIL 1, 1981

52 East 41 Street
New York, N.Y. 10017
(212) 679-9650

Ambassador Kirkpatrick to Address Annual Dinner On Human Rights And Terrorism

Alphonse D'Amato

Jeanne Kirkpatrick

Jeane J. Kirkpatrick, United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations, will be the featured speaker at the Overseas Press Club's 42nd Annual Awards Dinner on Wednesday, April 29. According to Henry Gellermann, OPC president and chairman of the Awards Dinner Committee, ''Ambassador Kirkpatrick will address her remarks to human rights and terrorism as a deliberate instrument of Soviet policy in the world.''

Pia Lindstrom, WNBC-TV newscaster and television personality, will narrate and make the awards presentations. There are 15 categories that focus on excellence in international journalism.

The sole Democrat and the only woman in President Reagan's cabinet, Ambassador Kirkpatrick brings impressive credentials to her new post. Prior to her appointment as the first woman to serve as Chief United States Representative to the world body, she was a Leavey University Professor at Georgetown University where she was also professor in the Department of Government. She was also Resident Scholar at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research.

A prolific writer, and researcher, Ambassador Kirkpatrick has produced numerous books, monographs and articles on political issues and foreign policy. Her most recent efforts include: ''The New Presidential Elite'' for Russell Sage Foundation (1976), ''Political Woman,'' Basic Books (1974), ''Leader and Vanguard in Mass Society: A Study of Peronist Argentina,'' MIT Press (1971), and ''Dismantling the Parties: Reflections on Party Reform and Party Decomposition,'' American Enterprise Institute (1978).

Through the years, Ambassador Kirkpatrick has lectured on tours for the U.S. International Communications Agency and the State Department in Africa, East Asia, India and Latin America. She has also lectured throughout the U.S. on political and international issues, and has been actively involved in numerous professional organizations.

(Continued on page 3)

Club to Hear D'Amato on Reagan Budget

OPC Headliner Luncheon Committee Chairman David Anderson and Committee Member Cindy Adams have jointly announced that Senator Alphonse M. D'Amato (Rep.,N.Y.) will address the club membership at noon Monday, April 20.

The subject of his talk is ''The Reagan Budget and its Impact on the State of New York.'' This will be his first major policy speech in New York since his election.

A spokesman for the Senator said that highlights of his remarks will focus on the future of mass transportation — from Westway to the subway to M.T.A. — and anticipated employment statistics in New York State if President Reagan's proposed budget cuts are enacted.

A member of the 97th Congress, the first in 25 years to have a two-party balance, Senator D'Amato serves as a member of the Senate Standing Committee on Appropriations; the Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs; and the Select Committee on Small Business. He is also chairman of the Subcommittee on Securities, an industry critical to the economic viability of New York.

A native New Yorker, Senator D'Amato was born in Brooklyn and raised on Long Island. He is a graduate of Syracuse University's College of Business Administration and received his law degree from the University's School of Law. He was admitted to the New York bar in 1962.

On his return to Long Island, D'Amato assumed a position with the Public Administrator for Nassau County. In 1965, at the age of 28, he was appointed Public Administrator, the youngest person ever to hold such office. Prior to his November election to the Senate, he was the presiding Supervisor of Hempstead, majority leader of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors.

Reservations necessary. Members $17, guests $20. Call Mary Novick. 679-9650.

A KISS FOR MARY

For Mary Novick, that is, our club manager, who this month celebrates her ninth anniversary with our club. Smoooooch! And many more to come! Kisses and anniversaries both.

Colleagues Remembered

Meeting with colleagues is the very essence of club life. And as we pause in the day's occupation to reflect on this 42nd anniversary of our founders' luncheon at Rocky's Bar and Grill, we think once more of our departed colleagues, gone since we arrived in our new home on 41st Street.

Notable is the loss of founding member Ralph Jules Frantz and two ex-presidents, Merrill Muller, who served from 1965 to 1966, and Matt Bassity, whose term immediately preceded President Gellermann's. Their dedication to our cause, their familiar and friendly countenances and contributions will be missed, but not forgotten.

Other familiar faces, now missing, include Time-Life Books editor Jay Brennan, public relations executive Roy Battersby, Walter Joyce and Ralph Major, the ubiquitous Stella Margold, Trinity Church's Reverend William Grey and lively arts critic Leo Mishkin.

As we round out our first half century of operations, our membership numbers over 1,400. It is both logical and tragic to note the loss of members who joined the club twenty-five, thirty or more years ago. Since our move from the Biltmore, we have noted obituaries documenting the deeds of such veteran members as Moritz Jagendorf, Geraldine Sartain, literary agent Ruth Hagy Brod, Charlotte Knight, Mark Henehan, who headed the club's placement committee for so many years, Sigrid Schultz, Dean Casey White and honorary member Isaac Don Levine. Gone also is Don Rogers, the New York Herald Tribune's celebrated business and financial editor for so many of its autumn years. The Trib itself died 16 years ago, April 24, 1966.

Two departed members left us more than fond memories and a record of accomplishments: Helen Johns Kirtland and Fred Sparks made bequests to the club. These generous gifts have been used to ease debt service.

Reflecting on the loss of these colleagues, one can not help but sing songs of praise. Each in his or her own way made contributions to the club—lasting contributions—that augur well for our future. They were there when the pioneering steps were taken. They helped make the decisions—right or wrong—that helped forge the plowshare that brought us to today. We are better because of them.

Today's New York Times carried an obit on photographer-member Tommy Weber. He covered this writer's wedding; he also covered many club events. Tonight I will raise a glass in his memory as I look at my bride and me 27 years ago. Thanks, Tommy.

March, 1981 —Charles J. Schreiber

Letters

NEW YORK—In the March 1 Bulletin, a small article about me on the occasion of my showing photographs in your exhibition space has some inaccuracies.

My books are not "children's books"; they are about childen, and some are widely used by students, teachers, educators and nurses studying children's behavior. as to my last book, "The Body Language of Children": I did not "do this book with Dr. Spock": I photographed and wrote it myself; Dr. Spock wrote a short introduction.

It is difficult enough, in dealing with the uninformed public, to dispel the impression that the work of photographers exists solely as illustrations of, or appendages to, the work of writers. Many photographers are authors; I have every confidence that so informed a group as the Overseas Press Club, which includes writers and photographers, can be forthright and helpful in spreading this concept.

—Suzanne Szasz

MANILA — UPI Messenger-Photographer Dominador Santos died Feb. 20 of severe head injuries sustained in a traffic accident while he was covering the visit to Manila of Pope Paul II.

Santos was riding passenger on a motorcycle carrying film of the Pope's arrival from the airport when the motorcycle and a Philippine army jeep collided on Roxas Boulevard (formerly Dewey Boulevard). Santos, 28, died three days later without regaining consciousness, leaving his wife and their 4-year-old son. Santos was entombed next to the grave of his daughter, who died in infancy and was named for Kate Webb, UPI corrspondent during the Vietnam War.

Alexie Petroff, Tass, was elected president of the Manila Overseas Press Club in January, the first East European correspondent to head the MOPC, which maintains reciprocal relations with the Overseas Press Club.

Edith Lederer, AP, left Hong Kong March 1 for her new post in Nairobi. Edie helped cover the Vietnam War and filed from several countries in East Asia including North Korea and China.

Richard Hughes, dean of the foreign press corps in Asia, celebrated his 75th birthday with 15 correspondent friends in a long, liquid lunch in the Hong Kong Hilton Grill March 5.

Richard, who files for The Sunday Times of London and several Australian newspapers, covered North Africa during World War II and has roamed Asia ever since.

For his birthday, Richard's luncheon friends presented him with a children's book on how newspapers are produced.

—Al Kaff

TEL AVIV — The Foreign Press Association of Israel held their annual meeting at the King David Hotel in Jerusalem and elected Art Kent, head of the NBC bureau here, as its new president. He replaced Hilary Brown, who several months ago was transferred to Washington.

David Rubinger, photographer for Time-Life, was elected vice-chairman. Lazare Bianco, UPITN cameraman, was re-elected treasurer. Peter Allen-Frost, Argus Newspapers of South Africa and the Wall Street Journal, was re-elected secretary. His wife is the daughter of the Israeli Ambassador in Washington.

Gideon Berli, of the DPA, German Press Agency, the only president of the FPA who was elected three times in a row, declined to run for a fourth term.

After the balloting, Israeli Premier Menachem Begin joined the group for its annual luncheon and press conference.

- Max Gendel

Tommy Weber, 79

Tommy Weber, one of the best known and most popular reporter-photographers in New York and a longtime OPCer, died in Mineola on Mar. 8. He was 79.

He had worked as a reporter-photographer for the New York Journal American, covering assignments in New York, Cuba, Mexico and Canada; for NBC as chief photographer; and as a stringer in the European theater during the war years 1941-45 for Life, Look, Time, the Saturday Evening Post and Colliers. Since 1945 he had operated his own photographic service.

The New York Press Club's Byline Bulletin — Tommy was one of their few honorary members — recalls his use of homing pigeons to deliver his films and an exploit which won him his job with NBC: "He locked GOP presidential candidate Wendell Willkie — FDR's 1940 opponent — in a room and threatened to throw away the key if he didn't get an interview." PS — he got the interview and the job.

Tommy is survived by his widow, Shirley, three sons and five grandchildren.

Washington Ticker

By JESSIE STEARNS

National Press Club President Joe Slevin, presiding at his first press luncheon since his inaugural, jokingly suggested to the guest of honor Korean President Chun Doo Hwan — that the New York Times and Washington Post might want to declare an extra dividend because of the many full-page ads taken by Korean firms welcoming him to Washington. (UPI Far East correspondent John Barton reported that the Washington Post's seven pages of ads cost $140,000.)

"Our speaker," said Slevin, of the Washington Bond Report, "is the head of a nation who comes to this lecturn after having done more for the New York Times and the Washington Post than anything since Christmas." The audience roared.

***

James M. Thresher, Washington Post photographer, named Photographer of the Year by the White House News Photographers Association for the fourth consecutive year.

***

Richard Dudman, chief correspondent for the St. Louis Post Dispatch, will retire April 1 after 31 years with the paper. He will join his wife, Helen, in the operation of two Ellsworth, Maine, radio stations. Dudman has covered revolutions and wars and reported from many dangerous areas of the world including Guatemala, China, Vietnam and Cambodia.

***

Al T. Brod, husband of the late Ruth Hagy Brod who died last year, is offering to set up a fund in her memory under Washington Press Club auspices, to benefit and honor young journalists.

***

The annual Washington Press Club Congressional dinner was a sell-out of 1,350 guests weeks before the dinner.

Both President Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush attended.

OPCer Peggy Whedon, ABC, had 85 guests, including ABC officials, Republican committee chairmen and ambassadors. Other OPCers present included Joe Newman, Vera Glaser, Al T. Brod, Jessie Stearns and Marvin Stone.

***

Jerry Landauer, 49, an award-winning investigative reporter with the Wall Street Journal since 1962, died Feb. 27 after a heart attack. Memorial services will be held in the near future.

***

Walter Cronkite is still on the "move". He was in Washington at the national Press Foundation with Don Larrabee and was given the 1980 Connie award by the National Wildlife Federation for his conservation communications. It is a statuette of a whooping crane.

Press and PR: Friend or Foe?

OPC is cooperating with the New York Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America in presenting a discussion of "The Press and Public Relations: Adversaries or Allies" to be held at the club Tuesday, April 14, 5:30-7:30 p.m.

William B. Arthur, executive director, National News Council, will moderate. Panelists will be Joyce Hergenhan, senior VP, ConEd; William Tremayne, VP, Prudential Insurance; Stanley Sauerhaft, executive VP, Hill and Knowlton; John Cobbs, editor, Business Week; Jack Griffin, assistant ME, UPI; and Allen Demaree, assistant ME, Fortune.

Tab is $5 in advance for chapter members, $7 at the door and for non-members, Reserve with Joanne Rosen, PRSA, 826-1765.

***

ASIA INFORMATION DESK

The Asia Letter Ltd. can provide a weekly file of tailored news of your industry or special interest from Asia generally or a specific country at low cost. Contact Arthur Miller, The Asia Letter, Box 33477 Sheungwan, Hong Kong, Tel: 5-281-074, Telex: 61166 HKNW HX, Cable Address: Newsletter Hong Kong. In U.S., details available from Ed Neilan, Tel: (703) 549-0004.

New Applications

ACTIVE RESIDENTS

Robert J. Morton; Editor in Chief, News World
Sponsors: Henry Gellerman, Harry Rand

ACTIVE OVERSEAS

John W. Lower, News Producer, ABC News, Paris
Sponsors: Elmer Lower, Roy Rowan

ASSOCIATE RESIDENT

John D. Koenig; Attorney, Gasser & Hayes
Sponsors: John Groth, Willial H. Pearsall

New Members

ACTIVE RESIDENT
William D. Hartley

ACTIVE OVERSEAS
Peter K. Wehrli

ASSOCIATE OVERSEAS
George Feifer

REINSTATED
ASSOCIATE RESIDENT
Bert Cowlan

EAT, DRINK WITH US AT OPC!

Kirkpatrick (Cont'd from p. 1)

She had been active in Democratic Party politics, but in 1980 she became a member of President Reagan's foreign policy advisory group.

Born in Duncan, Oklahoma, she earned undergraduate degrees at Stephens College and at Barnard and got her master's and her Ph.D. from Columbia. She is married to Evron M. Kirkpatrick, executive director of the American Political Science Association. They have three sons.

Make your reservations NOW for the Annual Awards Dinner Wednesday, April 29

CONGOLEUM CORPORATION is a broad-based manufacturing, marketing and distribution company with its principal operations in resilient flooring, shipbuilding, and automotive and industrial products.

Helping tell the story of Congoleum Corporation and other business leaders is the business of

Burson-Marsteller
PUBLIC RELATIONS/PUBLIC AFFAIRS

NEW YORK • CHICAGO • LOS ANGELES
WASHINGTON • PITTSBURGH • HOUSTON
TORONTO • BRUSSELS • FRANKFURT
GENEVA • LONDON • PARIS • BERLIN
STOCKHOLM • STUTTGART • HONG KONG
SINGAPORE • MADRID • MALMO • TOKYO
KUALA LUMPUR • THE HAGUE • SYDNEY
MELBOURNE • BAHRAIN • PUERTO RICO

OPC BULLETIN

Published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Overseas Press Club of America, Inc. Air-mailed to members overseas. First class mail to others.

Irvin S. Taubkin, Editor; Helen Alpert, George E. Burns, Blythe Foote Finke, Rosalind Moore, Charles J. Schreiber, associate editors.

Who, What, Where

By BLYTHE FOOTE FINKE

Former OPC President Will Yolen, 321 East 48th Street, Tel. No. 688-5716, is pretty much housebound these days, and would love to hear from old friends and colleagues.

***

Arthur Holzman reports that on a Friday night during a recent trip to Sri Lanka and southern India he was welcomed at the 400 year old Cochin Synagogue as the necessary 10th man forming the 10-man "minian" required in order to begin the prayer service. Over 1000 years old, and once thriving and populous, Cochin's Jewish Community has now shrunk to 49 souls. "We have only about ten years left," the shamus told Holzman after the service (the total congregation consisted of 11 elderly men, two teen-aged boys and a young girl). "Many of us will die, and the rest will settle in Israel." Holzman gave the Synagogue a copy of his documentary album "Israel Is Born" (Caedmon).

***

Gloria D. Sosin (wife of OPC member Dr. Gene Sosin) correctly writes "The latest OPC Bulletin mentions that a Mr. Theo Wilson used the club facilities and that HE did something else. The Theo Wilson I read is the West Coast Daily News correspondent who did such an absolutely superb job of the Jean Harris trial — living out of a suitcase all those long weeks out in where we live — White Plains. She is very much a female and someone must have goofed. Unless there are two Theo Wilsons!" You are absolutely right, Gloria, and it was an editorial goof resulting from reading initials in the OPC member list incorrectly. Apologies have been sent Theo.

***

OPC member Maxwell Harway, who recently retired from the State Department, and is now chairman of the International Relations committee of the New York League of Women Voters, is putting together a one-day program. It is entitled "Women in Islam" and will be at the New York Center for Near Eastern Studies. The all day program will bring specialists from many parts of the world to discuss the present conditions of women in Islamic countries. It will be held at Tish Hall, NYU Washington Square on Saturday, May 16.

***

Two awards of a medallion and $1000 each, one for outstanding community service and the other for outstanding civic achievement in Cambridge, Mass., have been announced in memory of the late Doris Fleischman Bernays, pioneer feminist and public relations counsel, wife of OPCer Edward L. Bernays.

The awards are contributed by the Edward L. Bernays Foundation to encourage improvement in the quality of life in the city by citizens and city employes. The Bernays family have made their home in Cambridge for many years.

***

OPCer Howard Penn Hudson, who runs the Newsletter Clearinghouse in Rhinebeck, N.Y., is also running its ninth annual awards competitions. One is for newsletters. The other is for newsletter promotion. Deadline is May 15. Awards will be made known at the International Newsletter Conference in New York June 1 and 2.

***

OPC vice president Russell Tornabene, director of public affairs for NBC News, has been named the Ernie Pyle Memorial Lecturer for 1981 by the School of Journalism, Indiana University at Bloomington. He spoke there in March and met with classes and seminars in the School of Journalism.

The lecture series was established in memory of the famed World War II columnist, who was killed while reporting on the war in the Pacific in 1945.

Tornabene was an Ernie Pyle Scholarship winner while a graduate student at Indiana University, where he earned his MA in 1950.

***

Erik W. Modean, for many years head of the news bureau of the Lutheran Council in the USA and a major figure in church journalism in this country, died March 8 at his home in Maywood, N.J. He was 69. He was a founder of the Religion Newswriters Association in 1948 and became its first life member.

OPCer George Dugan, retired religion news editor of The New York Times, called Modean "a dauntless champion of freedom of the press."

***

TRAVELER NOTES: From Sol Zatt in Australia, "At the hotel here in Melbourne, the press room is the place where you get your pants pressed. All the best!"

From Barry Bishop and his Jo in Plettenberg Bay on the Indian Ocean in South Africa, "Stopped here for lunch in a beautiful hotel. U.S. flag outside really looked good. We like this country very much and now believe it is criticized far too much internationally. Regards."

***

During his recent trip to France Henry Gellermann, OPC President, met with a number of OPCers in Paris. Among them: Bernard S. Redmont of CBS who was on his way to Moscow on temporary assignment, Mort Rosenblum former Editor in Chief of the International Herald Tribune, who had just returned from a skiing trip in the south of France, and Paul Winkler, editor of Opera Mundi and France Soir. Gellermann also had a long chat with old friend of OPC and editor emeritus, besides being a regular contributor to the Herald Trib, Waverly Root who although being confined to his home for health reasons sounds fit and energetic. He also met with members of the Anglo-American Press Association where there is some talk of the establishment of a Paris Press club sponsored by the French Government. "But," states Gellermann "according to old timers this talk has been going on for years."

Gellermann was made a "Conseiller-Member d'Honneur" of the Comité International des Arts of France.

***

GOOD FRIDAY CLOSING
The bar and dining rooms of the club will be closed on Friday, April 17, in honor of Good Friday.

Overseas Press Club of America, Inc.
52 East 41st Street
New York, N.Y. 10017

FIRST CLASS

Overseas Press Club

52 East 41 Street New York, N.Y. 10017 (212) 679-9650

BIOGRAPHIES OF CANDIDATES

APRIL 1, 1981

THE OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB ELECTION INFORMATION

The 1981 Annual Meeting of the Overseas Press Club of America, Inc. will be held Thursday, April 30.

This year the election is for seven Active members and three Associate members of the Board of Governors. The first four Active runners-up and first two Associate runners-up (after all vacancies on the Board have been filled) will be designated as Alternates. Active members vote for Active candidates, Associate members for Associate candidates.

Ballots will be mailed to all members, accompanied by an official return envelope, bearing a serial number, and voting instructions.

YOU MUST USE THE OFFICIAL RETURN ENVELOPE – otherwise your ballot cannot be counted, as is required by the By-laws.

Ballots may be mailed to arrive at the return address no later than noon, April 30. Or they may be delivered in the Clubhouse and placed in the ballot box. Members are reminded, however, that all ballots must be enclosed in the official envelope.

For Governor (Active): ALFRED BALK

Editor and publisher of World Press Review (formerly Atlas) magazine. Former editor of Columbia Journalism Review, feature editor and editor at large of Saturday Review, special writer for the Saturday Evening Post, freelance for Harper's, Saturday Review, and other magazines, and reporter, Chicago Sun-Times. Author or co-author of four books.

For the OPC, former member and alternate member of the board of governors; judge for OPC Awards; special assistance to the president in solving legal problems with the Biltmore Hotel and in arranging the move, and moving, to the Chemists Club; and moderating a series of panels with foreign journalists in previous years.

For Governor (Active): BLYTHE FOOTE FINKE

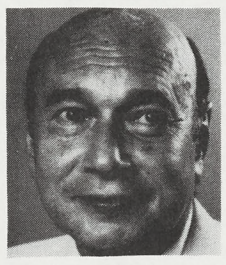

Blythe Foote Finke is currently United Nations/New York City correspondent for the United States International Communications Agency Press and Publications Service. She has also served16 years abroad in Europe, the Middle and Far East in both foreign service and private enterprise. She directed public relations programs for both Shell and Union Oil companies and for the Brooklyn Public Library in this country, and has worked as well for the Foreign Policy Association and the University of Maryland overseas program.

She is the author of 17 educational books – biographies and topics of our times – as well as OP ED, travel and other features for major newspapers and magazines freelance in this country and abroad.

In addition to over 20 years in OPC, she is a member of the National Press Club, American Society of Journalists and Authors, Women in Communications. She is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley. She is married.

For Governor (Active): MORTON FRANK

Morton Frank is president and publisher of Family Weekly, the national newspaper magazine (fourth largest magazine in America), which he joined in 1958 as director of publisher relations. Before that he had been editor, publisher and co-owner of a group of Ohio newspapers, where he had won first prizes for best feature writing and for community service from national newspaper organizations.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, where he worked on the campus daily and the humor magazine, he did post-graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh, Duquesne and the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Last year the Michigan Alumnus magazine named him as one of the university's 24 best-known living alumni.

He began his professional career right after graduation from Michigan, as ad manager of the Braddock (Pa.) Daily News Herald and editor of the Braddock Free Press. From there he went to the Scripps-Howard Pittsburgh Press as writer, ad salesman and roto magazine manager. He also taught PR at the University of Pittsburgh, wrote for radio and reported for a number of trade publications. Came the war, he joined the Navy.

He is a member of the Newspaper Advertising Bureau plans committee, the ANPA, the IPI and the Deadline Club. He is a trustee of Alfred University, which this year made him an honorary LL.D.

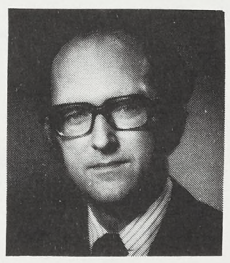

He is married to Betty Pope Frank, a writer formerly on the staff of Good Housekeeping, and is the father of two sons and a daughter. His son Allan reports for the Washington (D.C.) Star.

For Governor (Active): BARRETT GALLAGHER

Cornell University, BA, '36. Free lance photographer (with wife & partner, Timmie), Fortune, Collier's, Time, Life, Saturday Evening Post, Popular Photography, This Week, Esquire, U.S. Camera. Member, ASMP (President 1953), Member President's Council – to date. Awards Committee member, Overseas Press Club; Chairman, Awards Committee 1970, Co-Chairman photographic Awards and Exhibit Committees to date. Member, Program Committee. Alternate Board member 1980. Member, Joint Ethics Committee 1966-1976 (Chairman 1970). Member, Deadline Club (Sigma Delta Chi). President Cornell Alumni Association of NYC 1972-1978, Board member to date. Member Cornell University Council, 1975-1981, Director at Large, Alumni Association. Member, U.S. Naval Aviation Commandery. Ensign to Lt. Cdr., USNR 1941-1945. Member Steichen photographic unit, U.S. Navy, World War II. Author – "FLATTOP, The Story of U.S. Aircraft Carriers," Doubleday, 1959. ASMP Honor Roll (November 1978). Member Photographic Administrators, Inc.

For Governor (Active): MICHAEL R. JOHNSON

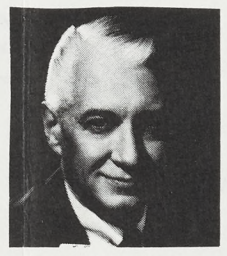

I spent nine years as a reporter overseas before returning to New York in 1976 to become editor of McGraw-Hill's World News Service. My foreign assignments included four years in the Associated Press bureau in Moscow and five years in the McGraw-Hill bureau in Paris, the last three as bureau chief. I am now director of World Press.

As a member of the Board of Governors, I would urge the OPC to continue developing along the lines established in the past few years, with more members of the working press coming into the organization.

As the membership grows, the OPC should once again strive to become a strong voice for the support and protection of journalists working abroad.

For Governor (Active): HOWARD KANY

Howard L. Kany has worked 17 years each with Associated Press and CBS, and is presently Vice President and Executive Director of the Manhattan-based Broadcasting Foundation of America, producer of international public affairs and international programs for hundreds of U.S. radio stations.

His AP career began in New York and led to Chicago and Washington, where he joined CBS News. In 1953, he transferred to New York as Director of CBS Newsfilm, and he has been headquartered here since then.

During the last 25 years, he has had overseas assignments or participated in international conferences for CBS and BFA in all Western European countries, the Soviet Union, the Middle East, Morocco, Iran, India, Thailand, Hong Kong, Singapore, Japan, South Africa, Canada and many Central and South American countries.

A Wittenberg University graduate, he entered journalism as reporter, columnist, telegraph editor at the Springfield (Ohio) News-Sun, then moved to the Washington Daily News.

For the International Executive Service Corps, he has been communications advisor in Malaysia and Latin America. He served on the National Commission for UNESCO and as president of the New York and Washington Chapters of Sigma Delta Chi.

He has been a member of the OPC Board of Governors, Chairman of Program and Public Relations Committees, OPC Foundation Trustee. "OPC has a challenging future," he says, "as we work toward restoring stature of professional and social activities for present members and potential associates who will be attracted to a revitalized club."

For Governor (Active): ROBERT KLEIMAN

Robert Kleiman, a member of the editorial board, The N.Y. Times, since 1963. Past positions: C.B.S. News, correspondent & chief of bureau, Paris, 1961-63; U.S. News & World Report, 1946-61: correspondent & bureau chief, Paris, 1951-61, correspondent & bureau chief, Germany, 1948-51; correspondent, Moscow, East Europe, 1947; associate editor, Washington, 1945-48; White House correspondent; N.Y. Journal of Commerce & VOA, 1941-43; Washington Post, reporter, 1939-41; O.W.I., chief, psychological warfare teams, China, Burma, India, Philippines, 1943-45.

Published works: Author, "Atlantic Crisis: American Diplomacy Confronts a Resurgent Europe;" co-author, "NATO in Quest of Cohesion;" "This is Germany, World in Review."

Awards: George Polk Award for editorials, 1980; Alicia Patterson Foundation Fellowship Award, 1972-73; Research Associate, International Institute for Strategic Studies, London, 1972-73.

Member of: American Academy of Arts & Science, Committee on Arms Control Studies; Council on Foreign Relations; International Institute for Strategic Studies; Overseas Writers (Washington); Authors Guild; Sigma Delta Chi; Commandeur, Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevin; The Century Association; AB, University of Michigan, 1939, Phi Beta Kappa.

For Governor (Active): ROSALIND MASSOW

As a writer, reporter, editor and author, she has had a varied career in journalism and in service to journalists. Starting on the N.Y. Journal American as a copy girl, she moved quickly to city desk reporter, feature writer, travel editor and columnist. Next assignment was Parade magazine, where for 10 years, she served as women's editor, covering stories all over the globe. She is now a free-lance magazine writer and author of "Now It's Your Turn to Travel," a travel book for older people. Winner of three Front Page Awards and several Hearst Headline Service awards, she has written such diverse stories as a five-part series on Anti-Semitism in the Soviet Union to going geisha in Japan to report from "Inside a Geisha House,"

An active member of the OPC since 1957, she served four terms on the Board of Governors, was vice-chairman of the Membership Committee, served with the Placement Committee, as laison between the OPC and other press clubs, worked on Dateline, and served as judge of foreign news reporting for OPC Awards Committee. She is also past president of the Newswomen's Club of New York and winner of that club's Pegasus Award for outstanding service.

In the public service domain, she worked on Governor Rockefeller's Committee on Minorities in Media and on the Presidential Commission on the Status of Women.

For Governor (Active): HUGH MULLIGAN

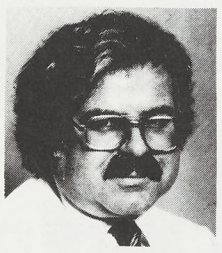

Hugh A. Mulligan is a Special Correspondent (AP's highest writing title) for the Associated Press, who writes a human interest column called "Mulligan's Stew." He won the OPC Award for Best Foreign Reporting (for Vietnam), the Sigma Delta Chi Award (for Cambodia), the ANPA gold medal, a couple of Headliners awards and a Freedom's Foundation Medal.

The last time he was on the board of governors the club manager was indicted.

"I have been in the club too long to promise Nirvana," he says. "In fact, we closed our bureau there long ago. I will work for better bar prices, try to stay awake at board meetings and hope we can find an airline to resume those great charter flights. Having travelled in more than 100 countries for AP and seen our free world grow smaller each year (it is half as big as when I began), I am deeply concerned about access to news for newsmen everywhere."

Mulligan has written some widely remaindered books.

For Governor (Active): DAVID OESTREICHER

National Editor, The New York Daily News, with responsibility for foreign and national news published in the newspaper

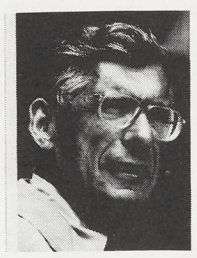

I am a graduate of Dartmouth College, Class of 1952.

Previous experience includes work with International News Service in the Dallas and Phoenix bureaus; assignments with United Press International in the Denver and Kansas City bureaus (bureau manager in Kansas City) and overnight cables editor at the New York headquarters; writer/editor for the News of the Week in Review at The New York Times.

I have been at The Daily News since August, 1971, and worked as editorial writer and editor of the Sunday View section before becoming National Editor in January 1977.

In my spare time, I serve as adjunct professor at the Graduate School of Journalism at Columbia University.

For Governor (Active): ROY ROWAN

As a writer and member of the board of editors of Fortune magazine, I am still actively engaged in covering events both in the U.S. and abroad. My regular beats include the psychology of business, crime in business, as well as the investment climate in Asia. This is the most recent assignment of a lifetime spent in journalism — most of it with Time Inc. publications.

Began my career as a foreign correspondent for Life, covering the civil war in China. Spent almost four years in China before the Communist take-over. Subsequently became Life bureau chief in Hong Kong, Rome, Tokyo (during the Korean War), Bonn, and Chicago. For ten years, starting in 1959, I was national affairs editor of Life, then assistant managing editor of Life, responsible for both foreign and domestic news. Left Time, Inc. in 1970 to found Seascape Publications, a series of waterfront magazines. Returned to Time as bureau chief for China and Southeast Asia in 1972. Covered both the fall of Cambodia and Vietnam. In this assignment wrote a book (for W. W. Norton & Co.) about the capture of the American container ship: "The Four Days of Mayaguez."

As an OPC member since 1948, and a board member since 1979, am presently chairman of the Freedom of the Press Committee.

For Governor (Active): DWIGHT E. SARGENT

Dwight E. Sargent is national editorial writer for the Hearst newspapers. He had previously served as editor of the editorial page of the New York Herald-Tribune, the Boston Herald-American and the Portland (Maine) Press Herald-Evening Express.

He has also served as curator of the Nieman Foundation at Harvard University and as president of the Freedom of Information Foundation at the University of Missouri.

For Governor (Active): HOWARD D. SCHOENHOLTZ

Although a relative newcomer to the Overseas Press Club, Howard Schoenholtz is no stranger to the world of journalism.

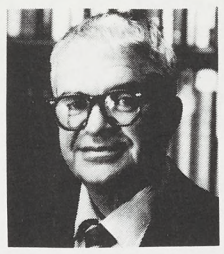

Following graduation from City College, New York, in 1973, Schoenholtz took on a pair of jobs, editor of the Manhattan weekly Herald Newspapers and freelance writer at all-news radio station WINS. In July of 1975 he left for a job as a newswriter at NBC's all-news radio network, the News and Information Service. Over the next 18 months, he moved from writer to editor and finally producer at NBC. He worked the political conventions of 1976, and was co-producer of NIS' coverage of the 1976 elections.

In April 1977, Schoenholtz left NBC for an editor's position at ABC Radio News. During three years with that organization, he moved up to Evening Charge Editor (Producer) for all four ABC radio news networks. In May 1980, he made the transition to television as Assignment Editor at the ABC TV Network newsdesk. He was promoted to Foreign Assignment Editor of ABC News in October 1980. He played a major role in coordinating ABC News' coverage of the release of the American hostages from Iran, and their arrival in Algiers (ABC was pool network for the Algiers arrival).

His close involvement with the day to day coverage of foreign news during a time of rapidly changing technology will, he feels, enable him to bring fresh perspectives and ideas to the direction of the Overseas Press Club.

A bachelor, Schoenholtz lives on Manhattan's Upper West Side, in close proximity to Central Park, a happy circumstance which makes it easier for him to indulge in his major hobbies, scenic photography and hiking.

For Governor (Active): LAWRENCE STESSIN

Among other things, the key to the success of a club like the OPC is to provide programs that will entertain, enlighten, and serve as a forum for guests and members on issues of the day.

For more than four years, I have been the chairman of "SHOPTALK" and in that period of time, over fifty top journalists (from Jack Anderson to Seymour Topping) came to the club to air their views on the current scene. In fact, more than half of these "shoptalks" were broadcast "live" over the Public Broadcasting System.

I want to be on the Board of Governors so that the experience I have gained could perhaps be of further benefit to the club.

I also feel that my experience in the field of journalism would be an asset. I started my journalism career with the New York Times and then shifted into a specialty beat as labor relations columnist for both Forbes and Dun's Review. I continue to contribute features to the Sunday New York Times Business and Finance Section. On the academic side, I have a PhD from New York University and have written what is called in the academic world "scholarly" articles for the Harvard Business Review and the Encyclopedia Britannica, in the section dealing with industrial espionage.

For Governor (Associate): NORMAN A. SCHORR

Former UPI newsman, Detroit Free Press correspondent, freelance writer, and Army press officer in the Philippines. In recent years, in public relations; originally with Westinghouse, then his own firm, and since 1974, as president of Schorr and Howard Co.

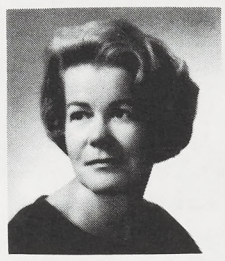

A member for more than 25 years and an alternate member of the OPC Board of Governors for the past two years, he currently is chairman of the OPC 1980 Awards Committee.

As co-chairman of the Club's Freedom of the Press Committee, he helped organize a program to build support for members of the press around the world who are imprisoned because of their writing. This effort has involved protesting to the governments responsible, as well as publicizing the cases in the OPC Bulletin and other press publications to encourage protests by others.

As a founding member of Amnesty International of the U.S.A., and longtime former member of its national board, he worked to help imprisoned editors and writers in foreign countries.

His business experience has included about 10 years as an officer and director of several public corporations.

For Governor (Associate): GLORIA WATSON

I believe the Club has made substantial progress since the move to its present quarters...perhaps the relaxed atmosphere has contributed to the solutions of some of the problems, certainly better planning and general management procedures have helped. The Club's heavy financial burden is being worked out, and we can now devote time and talents to restoring the OPC to its former prestigious position.

One of the problems we need to resolve is how to give more equitable recognition and equal consideration to associate members who have worked so diligently and contributed so greatly to the Club's renaissance.

My recent first term as associate member of the board, combined with my previous service for many years as chairman of the election committee, and my service to the now defunct hospitality committee have made me fully aware of the many tasks still to be accomplished. I believe with work, knowledge and know-how, the OPC can not only recapture its pre-eminence, but also can rise to new heights. I would like to add my efforts toward this goal, and will do so with enthusiasm if re-elected to the board.

For Governor (Associate): GLORIA ZUKERMAN

Co-Chairman: "SHOP TALK" Program Series 1975-79
Chairman: Membership Status Review Committee 1979-80

From 1975 to 1979, I was instrumental in bringing more than 100 outstanding journalists and foreign correspondents to speak at OPC forums.

As Co-Chairman with Larry Stessin of the OPC "SHOP TALKS", the Club has provided a platform and open dialogue with such prestigious newspeople as: Flora Lewis, George Will, Jack Anderson, David Broder, Robert McNeil, Tom Wicker, Oriana Fallaci, Hedrick Smith, William Shawcross, Daniel Schorr, Gloria Emerson, Harold Evans, Max Frankel.

I would like to see more of such programs!

As an Associate member of the OPC Board of Governors for two terms and as Chairman of the Membership Status Review Committee, ably co-chaired by Russ Tornabene and Harry Rand, I have championed the cause for full voting rights for all Associate members. This active participation by Associate members would provide an ongoing source of vitality and involvement to further the goals of OPC.

I ask you for your vote to return me to the Board of Governors as your Associate representative. I believe I can make a substantial contribution by initiating new programs and activities that will make our Club a more stimulating and inviting meeting place.

Affiliations: Executive Committee, Writers and Artists for Peace in the Mideast; Women in Communications; The City Club; Director, "North America Travel Promotion" — an international press/PR program of El Al Israel Airlines.

TO THE MEMBERSHIP

This special section, containing information about all candidates for election at the Annual Meeting on April 30, is sent to you in accordance with the By-laws, which direct the judges of the election to publish an "information sheet" containing "brief biographies of all nominees" which "may also contain statements by the nominees regarding measures and/or principles which they support."

Biographies and statements printed in this special section have been supplied by the candidates themselves. This material has been assembled, passed upon, and, where necessary, cut to fit the space available, as also provided by the By-laws, by the Committee of Judges of the Election.

No other mailing, except for the ballots, will be made to members eligible to vote.

COMMITTEE OF JUDGES OF THE ELECTION

Felice Levine, Chairperson
Florence Friedman, Secretary

Howard Allen
David Anderson
Madeline Clive
Jane Jarvis
Rosanne McVay